Reflection

Like last week, Jesus explains to his disciples that being his followers will ask more of them than a literal reading of the law they have always been taught. They are called not to an approach of compliance with minimum requirements, but to a life of radical generosity that imitates the love of God, whose love spills forth and gives us life. They are called to offer forgiveness and love that is not deserved by the recipients. "Be perfect" is an intimidating instruction, but it may help to think of "perfect" in the sense of whole or complete. The life to which Jesus calls us is one of integrity, one where our hearts and minds and actions are all in alignment with each other. Living as Jesus asks is healing. It brings us to wholeness. It enables us to follow him with our whole hearts.

Mercy Garden

Be perfect, Jesus says. Pray for those who persecute you. I try to pray for the perfectionist who persecuted me, projecting shame on me like violence on a movie screen. But flashes of memory intrude on my prayer: images of eyes shadowy with judgment, and teeth, pointed and bared. I unbow my head instinctively, unfold my hands to shield my vulnerable cheeks. Unprepared to offer prayer for the one who harmed me, I widen my petition:

*May the sun rise tomorrow, may the rain fall on us all.
Let there be light, indiscriminate and warm. Let there come storms to drench the merciful and cleanse the mean alike, to baptize the seemingly irredeemable as well as the merely imperfect.*

Let the scorched earth of persecuted souls be transformed by your gaze into a garden where long-buried seeds of compassion germinate at last, grow and flower, and humankind, driven to persecute our own kind, turns finally in blossoming surrender to you, who give us power, intending it for mercy, only for mercy, like yours toward my persecutor and me.

In the clearing after prayer, my mind's eye sees the perfectionist who persecuted me cloaked in a hairshirt inherited from parents who never cared for their child. Now all the meanness I experienced makes sorrowful sense. Now forgiveness like rainfall soaks into my skin and rinses shame away that was never mine to bear.

In your mercy, comes a new prayer, let your face shine on my enemy through me.

Rachel M. Srubas is a Presbyterian clergywoman and Benedictine oblate. She is the author of numerous books, including The Girl Got Up and the recently released The Desert of Compassion: Devotions for the Lenten Journey.

Walking With Moms in Need

The United States Conference of Catholic Bishops has asked all parishes, throughout the country, to join in an effort to help pregnant and parenting moms who are in need. These women and families are in our parishes and in our community, and many times they don't know where to go for help.

In response, we at Holy Cross are forming a core team to make an assessment of what services are available in Anchorage, and how we can communicate that information to those in need. We need volunteers to be part of the core team. And, it would be great to get people from all walks of life so that we get different perspectives on what is needed and how we should respond. If you are interested, please contact Alice Garrod at 907-529-1161, or Fr. Pat.

St. Therese's Camp

Invites you to the second-annual young adult (18-35 years old) retreat, May 19-21, 2023. This year's focus is an Ignatian-style preached retreat led by Father James Claver of the Servants of Christ Jesus.

The Spiritual Exercises of St Ignatius of Loyola turns men into incredible saints: St Francis Xavier, who converted much of India and Southeast Asia; St Peter Canisius who converted much of Germany back to Catholicism; St Isaac Jogues, who suffered martyrdom in North America. In following Ignatius' exercises, we will seek to know Jesus Christ more, follow Him more closely, and love Him more intimately. Come experience a crash course over this weekend and get set afire for the Kingdom!

Cost is $104 per person before Easter Sunday (April 9), $114 after Easter Sunday.

Some financial aid is available; contact Rudy at 907 232 2066 or campdirector@stthereseak.com for more information.

Confirmation Service Projects:

Used Glasses Drive

Olivia will continue collecting used prescription eyewear for her Confirmation Service Project will run through March 11.

Blanket Project

RSVP THIS SUNDAY: Grades 6-12 Retreat

One overnight male chaperone is still needed! Contact Anna for info!

God desires a personal relationship with us, and we can learn to hear His voice by becoming familiar with the way He has communicated throughout salvation history and ultimately through Jesus Christ.

Low Gluten Hosts

For parishioners who need low gluten hosts they are now available at both communion stations.

Looking for Input

Please call or email Fr. Pat or Fr. Dan to let them know if making masks optional at the 8am Sunday Mass would prohibit your attendance. Contact a priest this weekend. Masks are always welcome, but we are considering removing the requirement.

Notice of Interest

The Finance Council is seeking members of Holy Cross who may be interested in serving on the finance council. If you are interested, please call or email Greg Magee (907-575-3197 / glmagee@icloud.com) for more information.

Sacrament Prep resumes for First Communion

Confirmation Mass:

Save the Date

REVEAL Christ's LOVE

The Catholic Relief Services Collection is your opportunity to improve the lives of the most vulnerable people around the world and here in the United States. Your support funds organizations that aid travelers, people affected by war and natural disasters, others whose work or unique cultural circumstances require special pastoral support, and migrants and refugees displaced by conflict, persecution, or political instability.

One example is the people of South Sudan, which became an independent country in 2011 when its people overwhelmingly elected to separate from Sudan, making it the world's newest widely recognized sovereign state.

Clashes between rival ethnic groups then resulted in a civil war that lasted from 2013 through 2020, with millions fleeing to neighboring countries. Nearly one million South Sudanese refugees now shelter in neighboring Uganda, with many located in the Bidi Bidi refugee camp in northern Uganda. For Jimmy Luare, his wife, Jackie, and their daughter, Stella, Bidi Bidi has been home since they fled the war in 2016. Catholic Relief Services—through a comprehensive program of home building, training in hygiene practices, and leadership development—has helped Jimmy become a leading advocate for refugee families in need.

When you contribute to The Catholic Relief Services Collection, you not only strengthen programs that meet the immediate material needs of refugee families like Jimmy's, but you also empower and train future leaders who work to build peace and stability in their homelands.
